Marius L. VIZER
IJF President

The flagship event of the IJF World Judo Tour, the annual World Championships, is set to take hold of Chelyabinsk from 25-31 August.

Just before the World Championship, Russia will host the third Grand Slam of the year in Tyumen and their ability to stage the sport's leading events is only matched by the accomplishments of their world-class judoka.

The World Championships are a celebration of our sport. A celebration of elite performers testing themselves on the year's greatest stage with sports fans around the world engrossed in the breathless action.

Every nation and every judoka has earned this opportunity to compete at the World Championships because of years of sacrifice, dedication and values of judo guiding them through their careers. We have the pleasure to see judoka from the world around going toe-to-toe and ever-increasing numbers from developing nations. This process has been accelerated by the IJF's ongoing Development and Education activities around the world which are at the cornerstone of our World Judo Tour.

The World Championships will once again conclude with the Team Championships which take on greater significance every year. The atmosphere and team spirit generated by the team's event is unprecedented and we believe this can be contested on a larger stage in the future.

I am pleased by the cooperation and collaboration between the International Judo Federation and the Russian Judo Federation who have developed a great understanding and rapport over the last few years.

I wish good luck to the organisers, officials and the competitors. I trust that the values of our sport will be at the forefront of your performance on the tatami and I wish you a successful stay in Chelyabinsk.

Mr. Vasily Anisimov
President of Russian Judo
Federation

Dear Friends,

The 2014 World Championships in Chelyabinsk is the most important event in the history of Russian judo. I'm glad to invite all judo fans to the main tournament of the year that will take place in Russia. The great sports country, the USSR and Russia, hosted the World tournament only twice, in 1983, Moscow and in 2011, Tyumen. There is no doubt that the 2014 World Championships will make history as one of the best in all aspects. It will become a reason to take up judo for new generation.

Chelyabinsk is one of the most sporting cities in Russia: every third resident does physical exercise. Judo is the main sport with a wide range of champions. In spring 2012, Chelyabinsk hosted the European Judo Championships. The level of the event was highly appraised by guests and international experts.

After the perfect sports festival in the Chelyabinsk region, triumph of the Russians at the London Olympics and World Team Championships in Salvador, we see the rise of judo in Russia. New clubs and judo school have been opened everywhere. I wish to thank the Administration of Chelyabinsk Region for its support of judo. I am sure that World Championships 2014 will be remembered not only for spectacular fights but for the perfect organization level as well.

Mr. Boris Dubrovsky
Acting Governor of Chelyabinsk region

Dear Participants, Organizers and Guests,

Chelyabinsk is the new Russian first city that is honored to host the 2014 World Judo Championships. The world's best sportsmen will step onto the South Ural tatami. Certainly, particular attention will be paid to the Russian participants. We always hope that our sportsmen will do their best to become number one. I am sure that the strongest judo practitioners on our planet will show striking and memorable fights, and sport fans will witness intense struggle.

I wish all participants of the Championships self-confidence and great achievements. I wish you all health, welfare, good mood and much pleasure of this sports holiday!
